DIARY NOTES

DD/S W

18 June 1962

- 25X1A9a 1. [REDACTED] telephoned to ask that I open up the [REDACTED] Management 25X1A9a 25X1A6d Course at [REDACTED] next Monday, 25 June. I told him that I would do so if I were in town but doubted very seriously that I would be.
- 25X1A9a 2. [REDACTED] telephoned to say that Mr. Dulles wanted his Agency phone removed unless it was of some use to the Agency to have it in his house.
I told her to remove it.
3. I advised Shef Edwards that I thought the security signs posted to initiate the self-discipline system were much too inconspicuous and asked him to correct this situation without delay. 25X1A9a
- 25X1A9a 4. Dr. Tietjen and [REDACTED] briefed [REDACTED] Colonel Edwards, Mr. Lloyd, and me, as well as others, on the biomedical electronic project which the Medical Staff proposes be undertaken jointly by the Medical Staff, Office of Security, and Office of Communications. The project does indeed sound interesting and should be well worthwhile. I asked Dr. Tietjen, however, to come up with a concrete proposal with a price tag which could be considered more specifically.
- 25X1A9a 5. [REDACTED] was in to deliver the feasibility study on the hardening 25X1A6d of [REDACTED]. In brief, the study concluded that existing structures cannot be made fall-out proof and recommended a completely new structure at [REDACTED] (It is 25X1A6d entirely feasible to build such a structure at this location.) A completely hardened 25X9A2 sight for [REDACTED] would cost roughly $10 million. I gave Milton permission to show this study to the Office of Emergency Planning. In fact, I would be interested in getting their reaction. I also requested that he prepare a very brief memorandum to the Director summarizing this study.
- 25X1A9a 6. I telephoned [REDACTED] about the problem of the invitee travel. I told him that it appeared certain that we could not continue the invitee travel at its current level and that we probably would have to have other offices finance any invitee travel other than JOT. I asked him to study this problem immediately and to give us specific recommendations since I think whatever changes we are going to make should be effective 1 July.

25X1A9a 7. I talked with Pete Scoville, [REDACTED] about a small support staff for the Deputy Director (Research).

a. I told them to submit their proposal to me, and I would give it immediate consideration. I will then approve what I consider to be an appropriate support staff with the understanding that DD/R must absorb the slots in whatever ceiling they are finally allocated for Fiscal Year 1963. Pete Scoville expressed to me his desire to have the support career services supply his support personnel in the same way that they are now supplied to the Clandestine Services.

b. Their space situation was also discussed. They will not have enough space for a support staff on the third floor. Dr. Scoville again expressed his desire to study the space problem when he knows what his total organization is going to be and to make some effort to get them all together. I told him that I was certainly willing to study the problem and in principle favored getting all of his components together. However, I pointed out that this wasn't easy to do, and I was not at all sure how we would come out after making this study.

8. Pete Scoville, [REDACTED] talked to me about additional military personnel which they are going to need in connection with special projects. I explained that there was no way to have military personnel detailed to the Agency without charging them against our personnel ceiling; however, it might be possible [REDACTED] which would be substantially in full-time support of CIA. Under these circumstances we would reimburse them for their services, but they would not count against our personnel ceiling.
